13) Termination.

If Developer fails to supply proper materials and skilled workers; make payments for materials, labor, and subcontractors in accordance with their respective agreements; disregards ordinances, regulations, or orders of a public authority; or fails to materially comply with the provisions of the contract, Owner may give Developer written notice to terminate. After seven (7) days if Developer has failed to remedy the breach of contract, Owner can give a second notice to terminate. If Developer still fails to cure the breach within three (3) days after the second notice,

Owner may terminate the contract and upon doing so, shall be released from any further liability or obligation under the contract. If any Phase is paid in full and not executed at the time of Termination by Client, client shall receive the refund of that phase funds advanced previously.
